Synopsis of the Complete Incident / Synopsis de l'incident complet

On March 19th 2015, BSO was working in primary booth 602 at the Douglas Port of Entry in Surrey, BC. At approximately 10:59hrs a single male US citizen; here in referred to as "the driver", arrived at the primary booth travelling in a hatchback with Oregon plates.

Due to various non-verbal and verbal indicators of being non-genuine as to purpose of travel the driver was referred to Secondary examination for further processing. The driver was asked all the mandatory questions before being referred including; "Do you have currency $10,000 or more?" and "Do you have any weapons, firearms, pepper spray, mace, Tasers?" both of which the driver answered "No" to. The driver exited the vehicle after parking in Secondary and was directed to the Secondary office.

As BSO was standing at the rear of the vehicle; directly facing the vehicle with rear hatch open, a black male with a bald head wearing a black zip up hoodie appeared from behind the rear passenger seat and faced him. The subject had been hiding under the large quantity of goods in the rear passenger area of the vehicle and did not present himself for examination as required under the Customs Act.

Adherence to the Policy / Conformité aux politiques

The committee finds that the drawing of the duty firearm by BSO

and BSO

to the low ready was proportional, appropriate and in line with CBSA training and Use of Force Policy.

The decision by BSO to try to take control of the armed subject using soft empty hand control techniques was not in line with CBSA training or Use of Force Policy.

Overall Comments and Recommendations / Commentaires globaux et recommandations

It is clear from the Officer's reports that efforts were made by the officers involved to bring a dynamic high risk situation to a successful conclusion. A number of key factors were considered in BSO risk assessment; however the committee concluded that other tactics such as use of cover and lethal overwatch (i.e. drawing of the duty firearm) should have been initiated as opposed to the hands on techniques used.

Due to their key involvement in this incident it is recommended that BSO and Supt receive a refresher course on risk assessment and high risk response options. As part of the refresher on proper high risk response options, BSO and Supt should review the process concerning drawing in one fluid motion as opposed to partial draws and defeating holster safeties.

The Port of Douglas should use this event as a learning exercise and conduct an after action review of this situation to examine aspect of officer positioning, , cover, roles and responsibilities, and risk assessments in order to be better prepared should a similar situation occur.

As the result of two CBSA seizures, Intelligence Officers took part in a joint operation with RCMP. While conducting a warrant at the residence of the subject, officer provided security of the residence and officer conducted a search of the residence. The subjects criminal history included manslaughter, drug trafficking and production of drugs. The subject was noted as being violent and it was determined that the situation was high risk. The RCMP conducted the door knock, forcefully opened the door and arrested the subject. The search team which included both the RCMP and CBSA members entered the residence and cleared each room. Based on the aforementioned situational factors both officers drew there duty firearms to a low ready position in response to the potential threat of death or grievous bodily harm. The incident was approximately 7 minutes in duration. At the conclusion of the event their duty firearms were holstered, no public beyond the subject and his wife were involved.

Upon review of the reports submitted by Officers both officer's actions were reasonable and in the best interest of the peace officers and the public. Their actions were within CBSA Policy on the Use of Force and CBSA Training.

Overall Comments and Recommendations / Commentaires globaux et recommandations

With regards to the actions of both officers drawing ones duty pistol in response to the potential threat of death or grievous bodily harm, was a sound decision.

background information on the subject:

The Committee finds that:

Based on the risk assessment considered in conjunction with the review made by a Use of Force Trainer and this Committee, the choice of response options utilized by the officers involved in this incident was reasonable and in-line with the CBSA Use of Force policy and the Arming training program.

Overall Comments and Recommendations / Commentaires globaux et recommandations

The Committee recommends that:

If officers felt the situation was high risk they should have contained the scene and called the Emergency Response Team from the local Police Force. Since the subject had a history of barricading himself and the Police ERT was contacted in a prior incident with this subject, perhaps they should have called for assistance on this occasion as well. The primary objective of any intervention is Public Safety.

Officers should discuss legal articulation with an instructor to gain a better understanding as to what is needed for a Use of Force Report. Use of Force Reports differ from other reports we write such as seizure narratives, and should be written in the officers own words from their own perspective.

Adherence to the Policy / Conformité aux politiques

The Committee finds that:

Based on the risk assessment considered in conjunction with the review made by a Use of Force Trainer and this Committee, the choice of response options (both the drawing to the low ready/pointing of the duty firearms & the empty hand takedown) utilized by the officers involved in this incident was reasonable and in-line with the CBSA Use of Force policy and the Arming training program.

Overall Comments and Recommendations / Commentaires globaux et recommandations

No training recommendations required.

Drawing the pistol to the low ready position during the approach of the subject was a sound tactical consideration when the risk assessment indicates a potential threat of DGBH. Pointing their duty firearms when the threat of DGBH was presented was appropriate.

in July of

has a criminal history including: Break and Enter, Domestic Assault, Narcotics Trafficking (Crack), Possession of a Dangerous Weapon, and multiple deportations. has also fled from uniformed members of the Vancouver Police Department.

Adherence to the Policy / Conformité aux politiques

The Committee finds that:

Based on the risk assessment considered in conjunction with the review made by a Use of Force Trainer and this Committee, the choice of response options utilized by the officers involved in this incident was reasonable and in-line with the CBSA Use of Force policy.

The IEOs acted in good faith, and within CBSA policy and the Criminal Code in apprehending the subject. Their risk assessment was reasonable and drawing of their duty firearms to the low ready as a tactical consideration of Death/Grievous Bodily Harm was justified. However, their approach to the subject vehicle placed them in a position that jeopardized their own safety, with respect to arcs of fire, and non-defined Contact/Cover roles. The officers would have been safer to have conducted a High Risk Vehicle Extraction as per the Arming training program and as outlined in this report.

Overall Comments and Recommendations / Commentaires globaux et recommandations

The Committee recommends that:

The officers involved review the DFC Lectures on Contact/Cover (lesson 12) roles and the High Risk Vehicle Extractions (lesson 16) and the lessons on vehicle blocks from the Execution of Warrants &Vehicle Blocks Course. Particular attention should be paid to the requirements to have the cover officer remain with duty firearm drawn as a tactical consideration to be able to quickly respond to any threat if it materializes and correct passenger arrangement in the "T" blocking vehicle for optimal officer safety.
